The Balance of Power

WILLIAM ED. MASSERDEN

The Quiet Vote

Holds the Balance of Power

All across Saskatchewan people are saying, "If only they had a chance." Why not join the thousands of others who are saying the same thing, and give them a chance. Proper use of the balance of Power can make Saskatchewan a better place in which to live.

In key constituencies Progressive Conservative Candidates are ready to serve that cause. Make it your cause, too.

*That's why the people of all parties are saying
the quiet vote*

will give the P.C.'s the balance of Power.

Don't let anyone fool you . . .

Agriculture is still the backbone of Saskatchewan's economy

Progressive Conservatives believe the government and the opposition in Saskatchewan should cease passing the buck to Ottawa. School taxes on property are the largest single fixed cost in agriculture today. The Progressive Conservative Party is pledged to remove school taxes from property.

That is something the government of Saskatchewan can do
. . . and do now!

Exploitation or development

Progressive Conservatives believe that the most effective use of development dollars can be made, by encouraging small and medium size business enterprise, to improve the tourist and recreational capacity and quality of our clean pollution-free Saskatchewan natural resources. We believe such promotion would yield more jobs, and more tax revenue, than can be expected from the large multi-million dollar government guaranteed projects, and do so without fear of creating new pollution hazards.

Make sure you benefit from development . . .

Education . . .

A matter of choice or accident?

Progressive Conservatives believe the present educational system to be out of date, costly, and inefficient, and not related to the choice that individuals should have in preparing to meet life's problems. We believe that our educational system should be streamlined, to make it adaptable to the needs of a highly developed modern society.

Make education a matter of choice and purpose . . .

The Canadian Indian

| has a heritage worth preserving . . .

Progressive Conservatives believe that the original native people and their descendants have a right to enjoy freedom, and opportunity in the land of their birth and heritage.

Progressive Conservatives would honour the letter and the spirit of the agreements entered into with these citizens of our province, particularly as regards, the undertaking of Canada in respect to medicine, hunting and fishing rights, etc. Moreover, we would protect the forests, streams and rivers that support their life.

Patching the patches costs money . . . your money . . .

Every week of the year, taxpayers in Saskatchewan are taxed another one and one quarter million dollars to construct and maintain our highways. Patching the patches on some very new construction has become a part of that program.

You see the crews at work all over the province. The poor performance and the high cost of these highways lends credibility to the charges made by a former cabinet minister, that there has been corruption in handling government contracts.

End this wasteful drain of the tax dollar . . .

School taxes can be removed from property.

Progressive Conservatives believe in the survival of the family farm, individual home ownership, and personal business enterprise. We would use the balance of power to ensure the removal of school levies on property, and believe it can be done without imposing any new taxes. We would pay for education and school costs out of the consolidated revenue fund of the province. We believe economy in expenditures on highways, government administration, and unnecessary advertising of government services will yield enough money to provide a better package of services than at present, for the same amount of money!

Vote to remove the school levy from property.

Harmony and productivity go hand in hand

That's why the Progressive Conservative Party believes in a system of Labour Management courts or commission, composed of Labour, management and the consumer, to extend and emphasize the negotiation process. We believe a first step to make way for that legislation is the Repeal of Bill 2.

Vote for a working Labour Management Commission.

Deterrent fees

have not improved the quality of health care
in Saskatchewan

Deterrent fees discriminate against the poor, and those with families.
Deterrent fees are a nuisance for doctors and patient alike.

The Progressive Conservative Party believes they should be abolished.

Machine products

used in homes and industry

Almost useless without service

Manufacturers and distributors of machine products sold in Saskatchewan should be required to provide trained service personnel to be available to maintain their products in working condition.

The other parties talk about protecting the consumer. The P.C.'s would do something about it!

Pollution is a dirty word . . .

The neglect of the N.D.P. and Liberal governments in protecting against pollution is known in Saskatchewan. For as little as 46 jobs, these two parties are responsible for the pollution of the entire South Saskatchewan River system. Now in the north, it is proposed to undertake development, that will pollute on a controlled basis the most valuable tourist and recreational area of North America.

Progressive Conservatives say Stop pollution now your survival and that of our society may depend on it . . .

Constitutional Reform . . .

the only answer to regional disparity . . .

Progressive Conservatives believe the real action is at Ottawa. In the House of Commons, and at the Federal Provincial conferences the welfare and destiny of Saskatchewan people is often decided. Saskatchewan Progressive Conservatives are opposed to the high interest rates that have resulted from government policies. We believe that the Bank of Canada, should be used as an instrument of fiscal and monetary policy. We believe that capital should be supplied at cost through the Bank of Canada for schools, roads, hospitals, and other public works.

The Balance of Power

can make your vote count.

In many constituencies it will be impossible to elect your first choice of candidate and party. The results of this election may be very close. Every seat may be vital in the final decision as to who will form the next government. You can make that decision work for you.
